

Participant-level means and pointwise t -based 95% CIs ($n=5$); no pointwise tests. Descriptive context only—not causal mechanism evidence.

Logged stiffness is a commanded software parameter and was not independently validated as physical closed-loop impedance.