

Participant is the independent human experimental unit. Task start denotes system readiness, not first human movement.