

Logged controller commands are not equivalent to independently measured physical impedance.